When Lisa Taylor and her family move from San Francisco to the suburban paradise of Los Corderos, they know their family won't fit in perfectly. They're the only interracial family in the neighborhood. Lisa is a snarky sculptor. And 13-year-old Logan is gay. After Logan is repeatedly bullied at school, he finds his niche in an unusual place - his twin sister's Girl Scout troop. When he tries to join, the organization refuses, so the boy sues for gender discrimination and sets off a firestorm of national media coverage. This only makes matters worse between Logan and his father, a macho firefighter who is already struggling with his son's sexual orientation. Adding to the strife is Lisa's increasing distaste for Junta Moms who wish each other Namaste while rigging school elections and stealing each other's husbands. Join the Taylors on their hilarious journey as they face the fight of their lives and, in the process, discover what it means to be a family....
